Chapter 2.2 – Setting Up Your Own Blog

Hosting and Domain Name

Resources

Intro

Thanks for following this FREE course. I am very happy that I can help someone put all the pieces together.

Before being able to really set up your blog, you will need a couple of necessary “tools”. These tools are used by everyone owning a website or a blog.

In the resource documents attached to my course, I will only recommend services that are high quality, reliable and that I have personally used or tested. I will never recommend a product that I would not recommend to my parents or my friends.

One more note. As a total transparency in my business I want to make sure that you know that the links that I provide in the course and in this resource document are for the most part affiliate links. This means that, for me recommending the services or products to you, I will earn a commission when you decide to purchase. This is how I create my funded proposal to build my business and this is how you will get yours too. I like to be 100% transparent because I want to only build my business based on trust and mutual respect.

That being said, let’s look at the two steps in this first piece of the set up.

Step 1 – Hosting Service

If you are not familiar with a hosting service, it is a space reserved for you on a computer at the hosting company. It allows you to store your own files and access them online. You need a hosting service to be able to set up your own blog.

Without entering into details, your hosting service must include the following two options:

- A CPanel interface: Used to easily and visually manage your hosting account. The videos on my blog show how a CPanel interface looks like.
- Fantastico: This is an integrated tool that we will use to install your blog in less than 5 minutes. No need to know any coding or any other technical concepts. See the video tutorial for a Wordpress blog installation.

Which one to choose?

You can do some online research and you will find that there are hundreds of companies selling hosting services. To make it easy on you here is the one I recommend:

Just Host

It is a very reliable service (you don't want your files or blog to be unavailable) with the lowest price in the market. The prices of hosting services vary widely but Just Host has an entry service at $7.95/month or $71.40/year ($5.95/month). At the time of this report, you may want to try to coupon code "50OFF". This will give you a good discount! They also have longer terms if you can afford them. I highly recommend at least the year plan for two reasons. One, we are here to build a serious business and it will not happen in just a couple of months. Two, you will save a significant amount of money. Also remember that all costs involved in the course are tax deductible.

At this point, if you are not familiar with this step, I recommend that you watch the videos I created on my blog which will show you how to purchase this service and which one to choose. If you are already familiar and want to get your own hosting service, just click on the link below.

Stop here if you only want to get your domain name for your blog as it is included in the hosting plan. If you already have your name for MLM Lead system Pro you don't need the steps below.

Step 2 – Set Up a Domain Name

If you have already registered to MLM Lead System Pro (which I strongly recommend, click here to check it out), you may already have picked a domain name. If not, read below some more details.

A domain name will be the address Internet that people will type or see when they visit your blog. My domain name is “perigvennetier.com” as my name. I brand myself with such a domain name.

You can choose any domain name you want as long as it is not already registered by someone else. I recommend a “.com” domain as it is the most recognized extension. I also recommend that you register your name if it is not already taken (I am lucky to have an uncommon name) or you can use a combination of your name with other words. For example I could have chosen “workwithperigvennetier.com” as my domain name.

There is no good or bad domain names so I will not discuss in length here what to choose as a domain name. If you are not sure, please contact me through the “Ask Perig” button on my blog.

Which one to choose?

There are many services for this as well and to no waste your time, here is the number one domain name provider that I recommend:

GoDaddy

Very famous (you may have seen TV commercials about it) and very affordable prices. A “.com” name will cost about $10/year (you can search online for “godaddy coupons” to find some even better deals. At the time of this report, use the coupon code ‘promo749’ which gives you each domain at $7.49 for a full year). This is very affordable and so essential. Without a domain name you have no Internet real estate.
